

Partners

Michael Simpson

Michael Simpson studied Law at Aberdeen and Edinburgh Universities graduating in 1972. He trained in The Borders and worked in Local Government before joining Condie Mackenzie & Co in 1976 and becoming a Partner in 1982. Michael was appointed Senior Partner in 2000. His main interests lie in property development, trusts, rural and agricultural law. Married with three children, away from the office Mike's main interest is playing Contract Bridge. E-mail : mgs@condies.co.uk

David W. Reid

David was born in Aberdeenshire and educated at Aberdeen University, graduating in 1979. After serving his apprenticeship in Aberdeen, he joined Condie Mackenzie & Co in 1981 and became a partner in 1985. David is involved in all aspects of Chamber practice, with particular emphasis on Trust and Executory work and conveyancing. He is Vice Chairman of Perthshire Solicitors Property Centre. Married with two children, David is a keen follower of the fortunes of St. Johnstone Football Club. E-mail : dwr@condies.co.uk

Alastair Duncan

Alastair Duncan was born in Bridge Of Allan in 1956. He attended St Andrews University (1974-8) where he gained an M.A. (Hons.) degree in Modern History. He then attended Edinburgh University (1981-84) where he gained his LLB (Ord.) followed by a Diploma in Legal Practice. He trained in Edinburgh, joining Condie Mackenzie & Co in 1987 becoming a Partner in 1990. He is a Notary Public and a member of the Continuing Professional Development Committee of Perth Society of Procurators and Solicitors. His area of work is private client work, mainly residential conveyancing and wills/executories. His interests include family life, swimming, hillwalking and cycling. E-mail : ad@condies.co.uk

James G. Morris

Jamie has substantial experience with all court matters, principally civil matters, including family law such as divorce, separation, children and adoptions, and employment tribunal cases, representing both employers and employees, accident claims, and debt recovery. Jamie also assists in dealing with all types of criminal casework. Born in St. Andrews, Jamie was primarily educated in Canada before returning to study Law at Dundee University, graduating with Honours in 1988. He initially worked in Dundee, and joined Condie Mackenzie & Co in 1993, and celebrated the Millennium by progressing to become a partner in 2000. Outwith work, Jamie is a keen sports enthusiast and while he will, and quite often does, try his hand at just about anything, his primary interest is football, both as player and spectator. E-mail : jgm@condies.co.uk